GOOD ROAD BONDS

BID TO BE RECEIVED ON FEBRUARY 16 BY CLERK.

BID FOR WHOLE ISSUE

A Certified Check for $5,000 Must Accompany Bid—Court Reserves Right to Reject.

At a meeting of the county court held Monday afternoon, the court decided on February 16, as the day when bids will be received for the $50,000 Polk township good roads bonds. The bonds will be of the denomination of $500 and become twelve annual payments from March 1, 1915 to March 1, 1926.

The county clerk will receive the bids up to 10 o'clock of that day. The court wants the best price which the bidder will pay for the whole of said bond issue, highest rate of interest per annum to be paid semi-annually at which he will accept the bond issue. Each bidder is to agree that if his bid is accepted, he will accept and pay cash for one-half of the bond issue on March 1, 1914, and will accept and pay cash for the remaining half on July 1, 1914, and that said second payment shall be in addition to the price of his bid including the full amount of accrued interest on the $25,000.00 worth of bonds. A certified check of $5,000.00 as a guarantee of good faith must accompany each bid. The court reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

The township board intends to start the good road work in the township on March 1.

ARE ACTING TOGETHER.

All the Protestant Churches In Movement for a Big Missionary Campaign.

The "United Missionary Campaign" of the Protestant churches in Maryville and at which meeting delegates from all of the churches in Nodaway and Atchison counties are expected, is to be the biggest meeting of its kind held in Maryville. The meeting will start on next Sunday evening, January 25, when a mass meeting will be held and Rev. B. P. Fullerton will speak. The conference will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, January 27 and 28.

The following is what the board says as to the plan of the meeting:

This season is witnessing an unusual illustration of the fundamental unity among Protestant Christians of all denominations. The leaders of nearly fifty of these denominations including all of the larger ones, have entered upon a combined effort to enlist millions more of the rank and file of church members to do something to propagate the Christian religion, in addition to going to church themselves and helping pay the local church expenses. The campaign is to head up next March in a simultaneous nation-wide canvass for all missions and benevolences on the part of all churches of all denominations. The men who have been studying the returns say that only about one-third of Protestant church members have yet begun to give anything to plant new churches in the needy places in America and among the non-christian nations of the world. This leaves probably fourteen or fifteen millions of church members yet to be enlisted as givers. The organized personal canvass is the method proving most successful in getting many thousands of these people to be regular subscribers and givers.

The promoters of this effort, which goes under the name of the "United Missionary Campaign," point out the fact that scarcely one-half of the adult population of America are members of any church. The Protestant churches have about 23 millions of members in the aggregate, and the Roman Catholic church reports about 13 millions including all baptized children. This leaves about 35 millions of people over 10 years of age who are not members of any church. Included in this unchurched population are multitudes of foreign speaking people, speaking scores of different languages. There is therefore plenty of room for aggressive Home Missionary work on the part of all the churches.

It is also a time of unusual opportunity to propagate Christianity among non-christian nations. The foreign missionary work carried on for the past hundred years has been one of the principal causes of the great changes now taking place in Turkey, Persia, India, Japan, China and other countries.

The foreign missionary enterprise has grown until it is a tremendous world-wide business, in which over 24,000 men and women missionaries are engaged and for which the Protestant churches of Christendom contribute over 30 million dollars annually. Of this total, fully one-half comes from the United States which has come to be recognized as the most important single factor in the world-wide extension of the Christian faith.

A native church of nearly three millions of communicant members has been built up, with four millions more of adherents. About six thousands of these natives have been prepared by long courses of training for the Christian ministry and are now ordained pastors of their own people. But from every field there are calls for great advances. The missionaries abroad believe that their total force should probably be doubled in order to meet worthily the present opportunity. Nearly 200,000 persons per year are now being received into church membership from these fields, but this number could probablybe doubled if there were workers enough.

In view of these great needs the home and foreign missionary leaders of the United States and Canada are engaging this year in a great combined effort to interest and enlist all churches more generally and more fully in this missionary business. They have requested and secured the laymen's missionary movement to take general charge of the organization of the field campaign. The missionary education movement has prepared an exhibit of literature which will be used at all of the conferences. The plan is to hold interdenominational conferences, lasting two days each, in as many cities and towns as possible. Twenty-one teams of speakers have been organized for the United States alone, in addition to several teams in Canada. Some of these teams will conduct as many as fifty different conferences. About three hundred conferences have already been held, and preliminary arrangements for others are going forward in nearly all sections of the country. The total number of conferences will reach well over five hundred. All of them are for the one purpose of informing church people of the crying need of a great advance in mission work, both at home and abroad, together with an exploitation of those methods that have proved most effective in enabling churches and whole cities and denominations to multiply their missionary output. It is also found that the churches that do most for others are the best off themselves. The churches that are self-centered are apt to decline. It seems to be a normal and necessary fact that "the light that shines farthest, shines brightest nearest home."

THE M'NEAL FUNERAL.

Many Friends Gathered to Pay Tribute to Memory of Harold McNeal.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McNeal on South Buchanan street was filled to overflowing Monday afternoon with neighbors and friends who came to attend the services in memory of their son, Harold McNeal, who died Friday morning.

The service was conducted by Rev. Gilbert S. Cox of the First M. E. church, who used two verses of Scriptures on which he based the beautiful tribute he gave to the memory of the youth whose life had been a blessing to his home and his friends. The verses were from John 3:16 and Genesis 22:16. Three songs were sung by a quartet composed of Miss May Corwin, Miss Ada Clayton, Rev. Cox and G. Matter. They were "Face to Face," "In the Land of the Unsetting Sun" and "Asleep in Jesus."

Burial took place in Miriam cemetery. The pall bearers were Harvey and Harry Crawford of Nebraska City, Neb.; Victor Pinnell of Kansas City, cousins of the deceased; Francis Cummins, Nile Selecman and Paul Willson.

MANY UP BEFORE GRAND JURY.

Many Witnesses from Elmo, Parnell, Ravenwood and Barnard Appeared Tuesday.

The grand jury is still busily at work and on Tuesday, many witnesses appeared before that body from Elmo, Parnell, Ravenwood and Barnard. The jury will probably be in session until the last of the week.

James Heffern, of Omaha, was a visitor in Maryville Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. M. J. Heffern.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Matherly and Mr. and Mrs. Noel Varvil of St. Joseph, and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Appleby of Rosendale arrived Tuesday noon and are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Green.

WORK ON MAINS

AT BOARD MEETING MONDAY IT WAS DECIDED TO WAIT.

WORK WOULD COST LESS

In Spring Because of Good Weather Conditions—Board Prefers to Wait Until Then.

A meeting of the board of public works was held Monday night, and it was decided that the work on the extension of the mains here would not begin until the weather was settled or until spring. The board feels as if it would cost more to do the work just at this time and that the extra cost would not justify them in going ahead.

The engineer and also the superintendent of the plant informed the board that the work would cost more at this time than later on. Then if the weather should become unsettled there probably would arise an emergency which would cost a great deal.

The board in taking the position they do feel that it is the only thing to do. They don't feel like ordering the work to be done just at this time when they can get the same work done later on for probably $1,000 or $1,200 less. While there are a number of laboring men out of work at this time, still the board does not feel like going ahead with the work just for that reason alone.

There has probably been too much said in regard to the workingmen here, and the case has been greatly stretched. Any man that wants to work can find it by applying either at Mayor Robey's office or at the Christian church employment bureau. The trouble with a great many of the men is that they don't want to work, and some of them just want to do certain kinds of work.

MEETINGS AT PICKERING.

Sixteen Conversions Have Resulted So Far From Methodist Revival.

Rev. Stilliman of the Methodist church of Pickering was in Maryville Tuesday forenoon on business. He was accompanied by Mr. Olson of Chicago, the singing evangelist who is assisting Evangelist E. S. Goodale in the revival effort at the Methodist church at Pickering.

The meetings are being largely attended every night and there is excellent interest in the day meetings that are being held at 2:30 o'clock each afternoon. There have been sixteen conversions and the meetings will continue the rest of this week, owing to the interest manifested. This is one of the best special meetings Pickering has had, and the singing of Mr. Olson has had as much to do with the success as has the preaching.

WRITE-UP IN MAGAZINE.

The Shorthand Writer of Chicago Used Reporting Notes of A. A. Brewer.

In the recent issue of the Shorthand Writer of Chicago appeared two pages of the reporting notes of Court Stenographer A. A. Brewer. The following is what the magazine has to say about Mr. Brewer:

Mr. Brewer first began the study of shorthand at Platt's Commercial college, St. Joseph, in 1908, after having graduated from the high school there and after having attended the University of Michigan two years, when he thought he wanted to be an engineer. After seven months at the St. Joseph school and some practical experience in a railroad office he worked in the war department under the civil service. While in Washington he attended the Success Shorthand school, and on the first of May, 1912, received his appointment as official reporter of the fourth judicial circuit of Missouri. His duties take him into four counties, and his reporting covers both civil and criminal cases.

A study of Mr. Brewer's notes will show that he utilizes many of the reporting expedients which have been presented in this magazine.

REFUSED TO TESTIFY.

So Grand Jury Brought Witness Up in Circuit Court—Before the Judge.

The grand jury came to a sudden close for a short time this afternoon when Ed Jones of Parnell refused to answer certain questions that had been put to him by that body in session this morning. The jury took the witness up to circuit court and Judge Ellison informed Mr. Jones that if he did not answer those questions it would be necessary to send him to the county jail. So the grand jury went back to work and Mr. Jones was called and was giving his testimony at the time we were going to press.

Mrs. G. W. Anderson of near Bolckow, who had been a patient at the St. Francis hospital for several days, returned home Monday evening.

REV. DR. JOHN HERE

TO LECTURE AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH TONIGHT.

HERE TWO YEARS AGO

Is in Perfect Health Now—Says People Have Greater Desire for Bible Study Than Ever.

Rev. Dr. John P. D. John of Greencastle, Ind., at one time president of DePauw university, arrived in Maryville Tuesday morning and is at the Linville Hotel.

Dr. John will begin the lectures at the First M. E. church tonight that are to continue until Sunday night. He came here from Topeka, Kan., where he has been delivering, at the First Methodist church, the series of lectures he gave in Maryville two years ago, that will be well remembered by our people. The church was crowded every night and Sunday was a great day, the service having to be taken to the opera house for the night service in order to accommodate the immense crowd that came to hear him, and on Monday morning he addressed the Ministers' Alliance of Topeka.

Dr. John comes to us in perfect health. When he spoke here two years ago he was recovering from a critical illness he had gone through for weeks, and it was with difficulty that he gave some of his lectures at that time. But he continued to gain in strength and is now in splendid health, a fact his deep, rich voice tells as much as does every movement of his body. He bears a striking resemblance to the late Rev. Dr. J. S. Ford, who was succeeded by the present pastor, Rev. Gilbert S. Cox.

When asked if he thought that people were more interested in the study of the Bible than thy used to be, he said there was a deepening and widespread desire for Bible instruction from one end of the country to the other, especially among men; that men's Bible classes in Sunday schools were becoming great things, and that there never has been such interest in Bible study in the history of the country.

"The women always have been at it," he said, "and have gone right on with their temperance meetings, and missionary meetings and Sunday school work in the face of the most heedless concern.

"The men are just waking up to it and are just beginning to find out that Bible study is a thing worth while. Business men, the best in the country, are gathering together in its study, and they are finding it profitable and a source of rest; new ideas and principles are learned that are of value, and they are applying them to everyday affairs."

Dr. John also spoke of the meeting of 3,000 Methodist laymen at Indianapolis last fall, all of them busy men, all gathered for the purpose of discussing things of vital interest in every-day matters and all wanting above everything else to line up in harmony with the principles laid down in the Bible.

His lectures this week are along an entirely new line of thought to his series here two years ago, and has to do with the life and teachings of Christ.

Subject this Tuesday night, "The Christ of the Miracle."

Everybody is invited to come. All the lectures are free.

Is in Atlanta, Ga.

A card received by this paper from John I. Hoffman, formerly Commercial club secretary, says he is attending a meeting of the executive board of the National Photographers' association in Atlanta, Ga. He is well pleased with his work.

Croy to Visit Columbia.

Monday's University Missourian of Columbia had the following:

Both have been living in New York for the last few years.

Croy is in New York now and will have his first novel on the market in the spring. The subject is "When to Lock the Stable." It is humorous. Crews is in Fayette now for a visit and expects to remain in his home town for a few weeks yet.

Young man, don't stand on the street corner with your hands in your pockets waiting for a snap. The chances are ninety-nine to a hundred that it will never turn up. There are too many fellows in the same pursuit, and if the snap passes down the line to you it will be because it is in disguise. Don't always be on the lookout for a soft thing, for the longer you look the harder you will fall when you have an attack of horse sense. The fellow who is continually seeking a snap will collide with the butt end of adversity, just as sure as the blue birds will come in the spring. He will buck up against it with a physical emphasis that is calculated to bring him to his senses, but ofttimes too late to catch the train of opportunities that has been passing and repassing before him for years.—Ex.

THE COBURN PLAYERS COMING.

What a Press Notice Says About Mr. Coburn—Will Be Here at Normal on June 15 and 16.

Mr. Charles Douville Coburn of the Coburn Players was born in Savannah, Ga., where for several generations his family has been well known for historic valor and social prestige. Not all of his ancestors, however, were from the south. Through his paternal grandmother he descended from Captain Pierre Douville of revolutionary fame, who was one of the organizers of the Society of the Cincinnati of Rhode Island, while on his mother's side of the house he claims collateral descent from Sir Walter Scott and the poet Cowper.

Mr. Coburn is the first of his race to have adopted the stage as a profession, although a distinct tendency toward the different branches of art, more particularly music, has been evinced by nearly all the members of the family. When Mr. Coburn was a "youngster" he showed a decided fondness, amounting almost to a passion, for the theater. This taste was fully indulged in by his parents so that in time the young lad became a familiar figure to all theater goers, and no performance seemed quite complete if Charlie Coburn were not seen on his perch at the top of the steps which in those days led from the orchestra to the stage of the Savannah theater. Here, leaning on his elbows, with chin in hands, the boy drank in the plays, often memorizing at first hearing most of the lines which he would write down the next day and then teach to the members of his little dramatic company which he had organized among his young friends. In thi sone may plainly see in embryo the actor-manager of today. For in this capacity Mr. Coburn ranks with the highest and the artistic success of his productions is largely due to his efforts in this line.

The Coburn Players will be seen in a series of four performances on the campus of the State Normal school on Monday matinee and evening, June 15, and Tuesday matinee and evening, June 16.

Married in St. Joseph.

Miss Emma (Babe) Howden of Skidmore and Mr. Howard E. Garrett of Clearmont were united in marriage Monday afternoon in the parlors of the First Christian church of St. Joseph by the pastor, Rev. C. M. Chilton. The bride's engagement to Mr. Garrett was announced two weeks ago by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Howden, at a reception given by them at their home in Skidmore, and the date of the wedding February 15, As several showers and other affairs were being arranged by the bride's friends in the coming two weeks, and the plans at home progressing nicely for the wedding, lamentation reigned among the prospective hostesses about the town of Skidmore Monday evening when the telegram announcing the marriage arrived, for they know how to do things over there. Mr. Garrett had spent Sunday at the Howden home, and on leaving Monday morning for a day's business trip to St. Joseph, Miss Howden also left to accompany him as far as Maitland, when it is supposed their plans changed on the way to Maitland. They will spend the day in Skidmore Wednesday, and go to their home in Clearmont the same evening. Mr. Garrett is in the lumber business at that place, and both he and his bride are among the highly favored young people of the county.

Arts and Crafts Meeting.

Mrs. George P. Bellows was the hostess Monday afternoon to the Arts and Crafts department of the Twentieth Century club, and also led the study of Oriental and American rugs. Mrs. Bellows confined herself strictly to the history of materials, dyes, design and process weaving, symbolism and superstition of the Oriental rugs, and had on exhibition five specimens of her own of exquisite design and finish. This was the best part of the program, because of Mrs. Bellows' especial fitness and preparation, made by travel and study. Miss Marie Brink opened a very interesting study of domestic or American hand-made rugs. Miss Clara Sturm spoke of the rugs from the Herter looms; Mrs. Roy Collins explained the work of the Abnakee rugs; Mrs. W. A. Rickenbrode the Sabastos rugs and Mrs. E. G. Orear the Colonial rugs. Of these rugs the story of the Sabastos proved the most interesting. They are made by Mrs. Volk of Center Lovell, Me., and it requires months to make one. Only five of them have been made in the last five years, and they have been sold for $50 each. Perfection is the requirement of its maker. The design of the rug is always some picture from nature. When the rug is finished it is taken out of doors and is compared with that from which it was copied, and if the comparison is harmonious, well and good. If not, it is destroyed. There was a large attendance of the members, and after the program all remained for a cup of tea with their hostess.

Words of Praise

For Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy

"How thankful we are to you for getting a hold of your wonderful Remedy. My wife could not have had but a short time to live if she had not taken your Wonderful Remedy when she did. One more of those paroxysm pains she was having would have killed her without a doubt. Now she is free from all pain, free from heart trouble and free from that disturbing Neuralgia—all the results of five treatments—and the expulsion of five or six hundred Gall Stones. Now she is able to eat anything she wants and her appetite is good and before taking your medicine she had no appetite and when she ate anything she would suffer death for so doing and could not sleep at night; since taking your treatment she sleeps well all night long. T. A. NEALL, Roanoke, Texas."

The above letter should convince you more than anything we could say in behalf of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. Sufferers should try one dose of this Remedy—one dose should convince them that they can be restored to health. Nearly all Stomach Ailments are caused by the clogging of the intestinal tract with mucoid and catarrhal accretions, allowing poisonous fluids into the Stomach and otherwise deranging the digestive system. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy painlessly removes these accretions without a surgical operation and puts an end to Colic Attacks, Gases in the Stomach and Intestines and all of the usual symptoms of Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Ailments. Ask your druggist about Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free booklet on Stomach Ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored.

For sale in Maryville, Mo., by Pearson's Pharmacy, and druggists everywhere.

Work Will Aid, Not Hinder, Beauty.

If you "hate" your work, having in mind only the idea of getting through, or if you let it worry you, the drudgery of it will wear out your nerves and your good nature. This, in turn, will make wrinkles in your face and spoil your personality.

While at work or play keep your chest up and out. Don't keep your hands clenched or your teeth shut tight or your lips moving. Do what you have to do and "finish up" each task. Much distress will be saved by clearing the slate as you go along instead of having trifling duties hanging over you. If you have a letter to write, write it and forget about it, and so on with other things.

One of the best beauty aids is system, and right here let me remind you that routine and system are two different things, although they have something in common. Each day brings its routine of duties, but to do them systematically is to evade monotony. Monotony is deadly. It causes the muscles to relax and the spirit to go out of your personality.

Keep up a spirit of good will toward work as toward play. You will enjoy the one the more for the enjoyment of the other. Do with a will what your hands or your brains find to do. Do everything with snap and vigor, not half-heartedly. Keep yourself in hand. Never let the muscles or the nerves become tense.

KILLS WIFE IN ORDER TO WED STEPDAUGHTER

Higgins Makes Full Confession of Crime to Authorities.

Galesburg, Ill., Jan. 20.—Robert Higgins, aged twenty-six, signed a typewritten confession that he murdered his wife at New Henderson, Ill., Jan. 5, so he would be free to marry his stepdaughter, Julia Flake, fifteen years old.

He was arrested after the girl told State's Attorney John M. Wilson of Mercer county of her infatuation for Higgins and that she importuned him to dispose of her mother, who, she said, was the only obstacle to her happiness.

The prosecutor hesitated to believe the girl's story of the extraordinary pact entered into with her stepfather. But she told how they had schemed for hours devising a plan which would make Mrs. Higgins' death appear accidental. She said she was in the next room when Higgins fired the shotgun which brought instant death to her mother. She told how Higgins raved and struggled with neighbors for possession of the gun, saying that he would end his own life. Then, when the excitement subsided somewhat, she said, they explained that Higgins had been cleaning the gun and it had been accidentally discharged.

TWO SUSPECTS ARRESTED

Woman Believed the Third Bandit Is Taken With Man at St. Joseph.

St. Joseph, Mo., Jan. 20.—Lloyd Carter of Madrid, Neb., and Mary E. Parrish of Skidmore, Mo., were arrested here as they stepped from a Burlington train from Skidmore, from where Omaha detectives had telegraphed to watch for them.

They are held in connection with the holdup of the McVey resort in Omaha and the murder of Harry E. Nickell. The woman, who is small, is believed to have been dressed as a man, the smaller of the three bandits. She tallies well with the description and her companion matches up with one of the others. Detectives Fleming and Murphy of Omaha will arive here today to take charge of the prisoners.

The couple said they came here to be married. The woman appeared cool, while the man was nervous. She said he had not given his right name, which was Joe Williams.
